The History Graduate Student Association at the University of Cincinnati is pleased to announce its tenth annual Queen City Colloquium Graduate History Conference, to take place on March 29, 2013. This conference is an opportunity for graduate student scholars to present original research and receive critical feedback from peers and experts in their respective fields. The keynote speaker is Nicholas Syrett, at the University of North Colorado and author of The Company He Keeps: A History of White College Fraternities.

We invite submissions for panels or individual papers from graduate students at all levels of study. Proposals may cover all fields and approaches of historical scholarship and span all chronological and geographical boundaries.

PAPER PROPOSALS MUST BE SUBMITTED NO LATER THAN JANUARY 1, 2013.

Please limit proposals to 300 words. Paper submissions should include a working title and brief description of the central argument, as well as a copy of the scholar’s curriculum vita. For panel proposals, please include a 200-word description of the panel topic in addition to the individual paper abstracts and curriculum vitae.

If selected, participants must submit a final paper by March 1, 2013.

Please send proposals and questions to cincygsa@gmail.com or visit our website at http://www.artsci.uc.edu/collegedepts/history/research/qcc.aspx
