Celebration in honor of Warren tonight

Please note that we have changed the venue for the celebration in honor of Warren from the field station to the third floor of the Geology/Physics Building because of the likelihood of bad weather. See you all there. It promises to be a real fun event.

Andrew's Defense

Andrew Zaffos will defend his doctoral thesis today at 11 am in Room 521. Good luck Andrew.

Sigma Xi talks

Erika Friemuth and Matt Vrazo gave talks on their research at the UC Sigma Xi Fall Mixer last Tuesday. They had received grants from Sigma Xi to help them with their research.

Busman's holiday for Sarah

Sarah Hammer got a chance to check out some of our greatest natural wonders while on vacation last week. Above is one that she got to see in South Dakota. Geomorphologists are still debating about what processes lead to the formation of this landform.
